Luxelocker
Request

- To approve a tentative map to allow the subdivision of 3.66 acres into 98 lots, for personal storage units with 2.24 acres of common open space for the Luxelocker LLC.

- The development is a nonresidential condominium, and the unit owners will own the space within each unit but not the walls, which are common to the whole.
The parcel is master planned Industrial (I) and has a regulatory zone of Industrial (I).

Personal storage is an allowed use in I regulatory zone.

There are other storage facilities in the area to the north, and another storage facility is currently under construction adjacent to the south.
Recently, Development Code Amendment Case Number WDCA19-0006 (110.406) was approved to update the Washoe County development code.

The amendment allows building placement standards including setbacks, minimum lot size, or minimum lot width to be varied or modified for commercial and industrial regulatory zone parcels with the approval of a special use permit or tentative subdivision map.
Project Details

- Industrial regulatory zone parcels have a minimum lot size of 100 sq. ft., and setbacks are 15 feet in the front and rear and 10 feet on the side.
- The request is to vary the setbacks for all 98 storage unit lots to zero.
- The common area will meet the I standards setbacks.
- The storage unit parcels will vary in size from 504 square feet to 766 square feet.
The site is currently being developed under an issued building permit (WBLD19-102229) for 98 individual storage units to be within 5 buildings, for recreational vehicles and personal storage uses.

The landscaping and parking requirements have been reviewed through the building permit process and meet code.
The storage units will be managed by a commercial owner’s association.

The association will be responsible for maintaining the upkeep of the site including all buildings, gates, driveways, security and landscaping.

An office with restrooms and showers is located off Ingenuity Drive and will be used by the owners.

No staff is planned to be on site and the site is gated.
